

2021 ACTION- Latinx Grant

Land Acknowledgement

We wish to recognize the land, stewarded by Indigenous communities such as the Karankawas and Akokisas, upon which the SUSTAIN Center resides. Our intention is to honor the communities by knowing the land on which SUSTAIN operates. We are actively learning and reaching out to know how to show up in solidarity and be in relationship with the communities and the land. In addition, we recognize the harms experienced by Native people as a result of settler-colonial institutions and practices. While in the process of learning, we are committed to providing funding and capacity building to advance health and wellness goals determined by the philosophies, customs, traditions, and people of the Tribal Nations.

Description

The ACTION (Act with Communities To Increase Opportunities and address Needs in the South) Grant is SUSTAIN's funding opportunity that supports action-oriented projects in the US Deep South to build or enhance mental health and trauma informed approaches, promote wellness, and strengthen harm reduction approaches in organizations, coalitions, collectives, and groups. The proposed project should be grounded in Meaningful Involvement of People living with HIV (MIPA) principles, Transgender and Gender Non-conforming inclusive, anti-racist/classist/ableist, multi-lingual (if applicable) and accessible to communities disproportionately impacted by HIV.

 - Language Justice Practice and Spaces:
 - Multilingual (English/Español) group sessions with live interpretation
 - ACTION related documents and communication in English and Español

Why was ACTION Latinx created?

Latinx communities, including transgender and gender non-conforming communities, the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and queer communities, and cis-gender women and men continue to experience barriers in accessing resources and linkage to HIV and mental health care. These barriers include the limited amount of culturally appropriate and trauma-informed services, limited services provided in Spanish, immigration status barriers, and stigma around HIV, mental health, and drug use. Organizations also face barriers in providing culturally appropriate services due to limited capacity and funding. However, providing culturally appropriate trauma-informed care and using harm reduction-oriented services are integral components of individual and community wellness and wellbeing.

We are open to all projects. Focus areas may include but are not limited to:

- Enhancing Service Provision
 - Developing a referral system for Latinx communities that will connect them with a culturally appropriate resource for mental health, wellness, or drug use (particularly harm reduction approaches to services)
 - Developing and implementing awareness programs for Latinx communities that include education and resources for HIV in the context of one of the following

- content areas: mental health, wellness, or drug use (particularly harm reduction approaches to services)
- Adapting and/or tailoring mental health and/or drug use screening tools for Latinx communities used in the organization to increase cultural appropriateness and enhance access to care
- Build Storytelling Capacity
 - Building storytelling skills for staff, volunteers, community members such as providing training on storytelling to enhance Latinx voices within the HIV community in the context of mental health, wellness, or drug use (particularly harm reduction approaches to services)
 - Sharing Stories via digital platforms such as organization website, YouTube, Instagram, Facebook, and Snapchat, etc., to enhance Latinx voices within the HIV community in the context of mental health, wellness, or drug use (particularly harm reduction approaches to services)
 - Latinx TV and radio advertising around mental health, wellness, or drug use (particularly harm reduction approaches to services)
- Encourage Wellness and Wellbeing
 - Innovative, active movement project that encourages self-care as part of mental health, wellness, or drug use (particularly harm reduction approaches to services), e.g., culturally appropriate movement, activities, exercise, etc.
 - A program that promotes a healthy lifestyle with a focus on nutrition for people living with HIV/AIDS (PLWHA), including individualized, culturally appropriate nutrition sessions and group nutrition education workshops
 - Capacity for professional development on managing the illness and job security, e.g., resume building, job search, interview skills, and salary negotiation, etc.

Glossary of Terms: these terms and definitions are intended to help guide your application process. The terms and our understanding of them are ever evolving.

- Harm Reduction: an approach and set of practical strategies aimed at reducing negative consequences. We provide capacity building to create and strengthen understanding, systems and programs that focus on harm reduction and meet people where they are, as well as consider the impact of drug use, particularly opioid use, on HIV/AIDS. To know more about principles that are central to Harm Reduction practice visit the Harm Reduction Coalition's site linked here.
- Latinx: Describes individuals or groups who identify as Latinx, Latino/a/e, Afro-Latinx, Chicano/a, Chicana/e and/or Hispanic a person of Latin American origin or descent (used as a gender-inclusive alternative to Latino or Latina).
- Mental Health: The dynamic state of emotional, psychological and social well-being that affects how one thinks, feels and acts, and functions, as well as how one makes decisions, copes with stress and maintains relationships. One's mental health can be influenced by many factors, everyday life experiences, family history, experiences with systems, and biology. We prepare organizations and service providers to better understand and address the impact of mental health in the context of HIV care.
- Trauma: General trauma is defined as the threat of or exposure to, or experience of an event, series of events, or set of circumstances experienced either directly or through witnessing by an individual that is physically, emotionally or psychologically harmful or life threatening that has lasting adverse effects on an individual's functioning and well-being. Historical trauma is defined as the complex, and collective, and cumulative general trauma or emotional and psychological wounding experienced across generations (and over time) by a group of people who share an identify, affiliation and/or circumstance. We work with organizations to build capacity on how to respond empathetically to individuals dealing with past and/or present trauma.
- TGNC: Describes groups or individuals whose gender is different than assigned coercively at birth, including but not limited to transgender, genderqueer, non-binary, non-conforming and indigenous (TGNC) genders.
- Wellness/Wellbeing: While there is no consensus on a single definition, well-being is defined as the balance of the various interrelated dimensions of an individual's life, including: 1) physical, 2) psychological, behavioral, and emotional, 3) spiritual, 4) environmental, 5) social, 6) financial and economic, 7) intellectual, and 8) occupational and employment factors.
- BIPOC: Black, Indigenous, and People of Color.
